

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Read to the House and Senate on Monday.

CHARACTERISTIC PAPER

Compilments the Law Makers but Recommend Undoing of Their Work at Last Session.

Executive Department, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Office of the Governor.

Harrisburg, January 15, 1906.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen—The legislation enacted at the last general session of the legislature deserves as a whole very high commendation. There was an absence of those corruptions following the exploitation of crime and scandal which appear to be so pleasing to many unthinking people, and the attention of the legislators was, instead, directed toward measures looking toward the advancement of our life and to the substantial benefit of the community.

Results of far reaching importance were accomplished. The National Government is making an earnest effort to curtail the effects of the exercise of the powers wielded by the great corporations of the country. It is far better to correct evils in their cause than it is to endeavor to escape the consequences. It is wiser to prevent the improvident grant of inordinate powers than to restrain their exercise after they have been granted. An easy modern method of enabling one man to get possession of the property which belongs to another is to authorize him to organize a corporation and then to give the corporation the right of eminent domain. It is honorable to the Commonwealth that during the two sessions of the legislature there has been an extension of this right, and at the last session it was taken away from the private water companies which were rapidly seizing all of the streams of the State. This is believed to be the first pronounced conservative step taken at any one of the States in the country since the beginning and not at the end of the one of the most evil of modern tendencies. Of recent years, all over the country, and especially in the South, there has been an increase of certain kind of personal violence which has been fostered by local outbreaks of popular fury until the minds of men have grown accustomed to lynchings and even to burnings at the stake. One instance of death by fire caused by a mob occurred within a few miles of the borders of the Commonwealth, waiting to grieve over such violations of the law, the Legislature at its last session provided means by the establishment of a mounted constabulary to prevent their occurrence. It is an experiment, the outcome of which is being watched with great interest both at home and abroad. Measures were taken for the maintenance of the health of the people, for the collection of their vital statistics, for the improvement of their highways, for the preservation of the purity of their water supplies and their foods, for the protection of the orchards, and for the amelioration of the conditions of the employment of women and children. A law was passed to call into existence a great city at the western end of the State, and another which provided for the deepening of the Susquehanna River, and another which provided for the deepening of the Susquehanna River, and another which provided for the deepening of the Susquehanna River.

HARRISBURG LETTER

Special Session of Both Houses of State Law Makers.

MANY BILLS PRESENTED.

The Work of the Last Legislature to Be Undone—Reform Measures—Greater Citizens.

Special Correspondence to THE GAZETTE.

HARRISBURG, January 16.—In response to the call of Governor Pennypacker the legislature convened here Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The governor's message was read in both the house and the senate. It was short and spirited and took an occasional sly dig at the reformers. It went on to compliment the legislature on their work of last year and told of some of the results of the legislation enacted. He suggested an assurance that will be passed or acted upon during argument.

A greater Pittsburgh bill, for which minor suggestions were made.

A bill for reform in the state treasury.

A legislative appointment bill, the passage of which has been refused for many years.

A personal registration bill.

A "Philadelphia Kipper" bill representing.

A bill to regulate the amount to be expended each year for the erection of courthouses.

A measure to abolish fees in the office of the insurance commissioner and secretary of the commonwealth.

A Civil Service reform bill.

A bill regulating the amount of money expended by political candidates.

Three bills were presented in the house Monday; two of them were referred to the committee on education and the secretary of the commonwealth on a salary of $10,000 per annum and the insurance commissioner on a salary of $8,000 per annum; all fees to be turned into the treasury.

The third bill was introduced by Mr. Cronk of Philadelphia. It was amended the Philadelphia ripper of the last session so as to rid it completely.

Tuesday morning the committees of the house were announced by Speaker Walton. There are ten committees and they are expected to consider all the legislation which may be introduced during the session.

Mr. Geobring, of Allegheny, introduced a bill providing for civil service regulations in the state offices.

Mr. Scott, of Philadelphia, presented a memorial from the Philadelphia Association of the Philadelphia ripper to be repealed.

Senatorial Appointment bill drafted by the governor was introduced by Mr. Roberts, of Montgomery, in the senate. This bill makes a change in the districts as now constituted and takes portions of Berks, Lancaster, Schuylkill and Lehigh into other counties to form districts.

A bill to consolidate the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny into a Greater Pittsburgh was introduced by Mr. Cook, of Allegheny, in the house. The annexation of Allegheny to Pittsburgh will be done by a joint vote at an election to be held by the court and may occur within a few months after the passage of the act. The bill does not "trip" out of office any of the officials of Allegheny. The mayor of Allegheny because the deputy mayor of Pittsburgh and the same plan is carried out in caring for the heads of departments.

Mr. Geary, of Columbia, introduced in the house a bill governing the management of the treasury, framed by Homer L. Castle, of Pittsburgh, private counsel for Treasurer Eliot Berry. The bill provides that the treasurer will be bonded to double the amount of the public fund deposited with them. In addition to this the treasurer must assign to the state treasurer, United States, State, County or Municipal bonds equal to the amount of deposit. The treasurer can sell these securities in open market if the institution fails to honor his check or draft for the amount of the state deposit.

The minimum rate of interest is fixed at 3 per cent and the banks held the highest rates are selected as depositories. In addition to this are five active banks which pay 15 per cent on daily balances. A penalty of $5,000 is provided for the person who is guilty of value to secure state deposit. The treasurer's receipt on such an offer is subject to a fine of $5,000, to be deposited from the and deprived of holding public office for ten years.

John Baerick killed a porker that tipped the beam at 440 pounds and measured six feet eight and one half inches from tip to tip, while your unworthy correspondent killed one that tipped the beam at 140 pounds.

George H. Deener is home from an extended trip to Johnstown, Pittsburgh and Stony-Lencome.

Grand Small left this morning for Johnstown to resume his occupation, that of carpenter.

Aaron Rose will in the near future enlarge his store room. Mr. Rose has built up a large trade since he located in our little burg.

If hunting rabbits out of season will cause a boy to cry for mercy, what ought it cause older people to do when they cross the line of demarcation.

Everything is topsy tv in our little burg in regard to the post office, and only the Lord and the clerical and clerical know who will be able to snap the political plan. Several parties have entered the political arena, relying upon that when the Lord gave Solomon for which he did not ask.

Where, oh, where is "Paddy" of the Bedford Inquirer gone? Some say he has crossed the lowlands of Holland and touched the sunny plains of France and is now on his way to one of the seven hills of Rome.

THE STATEHOOD BILLS

Are Not Likely to Pass in the Present Form—But House Resolves to Visit Washington.

Special Correspondence to THE GAZETTE.

WASHINGTON, D. C. January 16.—Strenuous efforts are being made to crush the "insurrection" in the house and force the statehood bill to a vote. An arrangement was made to vote on the Philippine tariff bill on Monday and after that will come the real test of strength to see whether enough of the majority can be dragged into voting for a rule on the Hamilton bill.

The Hamilton bill, which is regarded as the one which they have now pledged already to defeat the rule. But there is an outlook for people in a suggestion that has been made to split the rule and vote twice on the Hamilton proposition. It will be remembered that the Hamilton bill provides in one breath that statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory and for Arizona and New Mexico. Now it is possible that the first of these two combinations could be put through without such a desperate fight. But nearly all the people of Arizona are lined up against the Hamilton bill. The New Mexico people are in a position to force their views strongly. Therefore it is possible that the Arizona-New Mexico combination may be allowed to go by default and the other measure put through. This would be a nominal victory for the majority. It would "save their face" and make a way to apparent harmony. But the wound that the cord has made already is too deep to be easily healed.

Strong arguments are being used against the Philippine tariff bill. No one disputes that it would be a good thing for this island, though whether it would make them contented with the American rule is another question. But it would be a serious blow to the cause and best interests of this country, the opponents of the bill say it is a certainty. Those opposed to the measure say that there would be a million tons of Philippine sugar exported to America if the bill became a law. Out of this there would be a profit of $1,000,000 to the Philippine treasury and a profit of $100,000 to the planter. The people who cultivate the sugar are paid on an average of fifteen cents a ton, and this is the sort of labor that would be brought into the country. The opponents of the bill say, "this is not good enough."

The department of agriculture and an interesting visitor this week in the person of Sir Horace Plunket, the secretary of agriculture for Ireland and a member of parliament. It is generally known, but the English M. P. will be a warm punch and he is a considerable rancher and interests in Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming. He comes over about once a year to look after his American interests and has a ranch in California. He was in Washington to look after his interests in California. He is a department of which he is the chief at home. He said on this visit that he was particularly interested in the dietary experiments the department was carrying on, as he considered proper feeding of the Irish peasant a good deal more important than the proper feeding of his cattle. He also looked into the question of plant breeding and seed selection for use in Ireland, saying that the American government had made such strides in these lines and in the question of farm crops that he was much interested in the hope of making the small Irish farmer more productive and in helping the small farmers who were struggling bravely under the land purchase act to become landowners on their own account in much less time than any other country. Of course if Sir Horace is able to take home with him any suggestions that will materially help to the political agitator on foot.

On Saturday, January 27, both the Democratic and Republican primaries will be held at the election house near Shillaburg. The polls will open at 10 o'clock and the polls will close at 8 o'clock. There should be no more good men chosen to fill the different offices, on either side. The township school board has received the township school near eight hundred dollars and yet their settlement showed money in the treasury. The settlement with the supervisors showed the township to be in debt and an extra cash tax was laid to pay off the indebtedness. It is laid by the taxpayers that the next settlement will give a better showing.

The hospital at which he has founded for the sick and the forsaken, where the wretched and the suffering can receive the best treatment that the world affords without money and without price, this, may well earn the blessings of those who are controlled by his bounty, which, ascending to the Throne of Grace, may earn pardon for the sinner and forgetfulness of his sins.

The week just passed has been fairly busy, we may repeat. We had a big fire in our big hundred thousand dollar building on the occasion. This was not a case of long hours or low salaries but the cause of our strike for the recognition of their union. The manager would not agree to it and he proposed to keep the opera shop in operation and he intends to keep his singers from any portion of the globe where they belong to a union or not, or "go it alone." The chorus struck and the manager made appeal to the union's manager. He decided against the chorus singers: Manager Conard raised their salary to twenty dollars a week, the old singers will come back, everything is lovely and our hundred thousand dollar opera is secure.

any disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance, the kidneys poison the blood and attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves may break down and ventricle failure ensue. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder remedy. It is the best treatment for all kidney and bladder troubles, and the scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day. It is the best treatment for all kidney troubles. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures in all kidney and bladder cases.
